Charges Are Laid As Dogs Are Running Deer

For the past several weeks one of the main topics of conversation around Haliburton has been the issue of dogs running deer. From what we can understand, there has been several cases where dogs have been loose and running deer in various sections of Haliburton County.

The Department of Lands and Forests have been right on the job and they are making a real crackdown on the people who are violating the law by letting their dogs run at large. Several charges have been laid in the past few weeks and more can be expected if these dog owners refuse to tie their dogs up. Several dogs have also been shot.

The tenth charge under The Game and Fish Act was laid on Tuesday to owners of two dogs which chased a deer onto the Allsaw Bridge which is located about half-way between Haliburton and Minden. Up until Tuesday, four deer have been run down and killed by local dogs.

It should be pointed out here that dogs in most municipalities in the Provisional County of Haliburton are to be tied up twelve months of the year. Everyone should be well aware of this as several advertisements have appeared in this newspaper on the subject.

Officials of the Department of Lands and Forests said this week that in the future the owners who have dogs running at large and are caught running deer will have to suffer the consequences as they will be starting to adopt a hard line policy.

Please heed this warning and keep your dogs tied up.

April Is Cancer Month

According to Mr. Bill Mosley, Canadian Cancer Society Education Chairman for the Victoria-Haliburton Unit, an estimated 64,000 Canadians will contract cancer for the first time this year. But because of new knowledge gained from cancer research half of these people will be alive and well five years from now.

"The saddest things about all this," said Mr. Mosley, "is that somewhere between 66 per cent and 80 per cent of these new cases could be prevented."

He made these statements while speaking in connection with the April appeal for funds by the Canadian Cancer Society.

"One of the goals of the Cancer Society is to spread this word about prevention," he said, "and to make the public well aware of the Seven Safeguards against cancer." The Seven Safeguards are: (1) Don't smoke; (2) Have a medical check-up yearly; (3) Ask your dentist to report any new conditions; (4) Avoid excessive sunlight; (5) Arrange with your doctor for a bowel examination; (6) And for women: practise regular breast self-examination; (7) Have a regular Pap Test.

Mr. Mosley said that while practising prevention is everyone's best personal weapon against cancer, it's not the only weapon.

"Through donations to the appeal of the Canadian Cancer Society," he said, "the Society supports vital work — research into cancer's cause, the search for a cure, and better methods of treatment for cancer patients. Cancer Society volunteers are active year round in our community with services to cancer patients."

There will be about 550 volunteers canvassing in our area for the Canadian Cancer Society during the month of April.

For any additional information contact your local representative or the Unit office at 3 Cambridge Street South, Lindsay, Ontario.

Haliburton Figure Skating Club Close Out Successful Season

The 31st of March marked the end of the 1971-72 season for the Haliburton Figure Skating Club. It has been a busy and successful year with an enrolment of over 100 skaters.

For the Juniors there was the serious business of passing tests and earning as many as possible of the twelve national skating badges available to them. On January 30th some of the skaters took part in the Kawartha Inter-Club Competitions at Bobcaygeon and, of course, the highlight of the year was the Carnival held on March 10th.

The Minden and Haliburton Clubs combined held two test days for the Seniors during the season — the first held on February 12th with the results being published earlier, and the second on March 25th with the results being as follows:

Preliminary Figures - Marina Pearsell, Allison English, Catherine Rouble, Martha Bolco, Gerrie Lee Agnew, Jennifer Sisson.

Dutch Waltz - Sharon Findlay, Karen Bell, Gerrie Lee Agnew, Kerry Hodgson.

Canasta Tango - Karen Moxam, Marina Pearsell, Allison English, Teresa Vanderwal, Cindy Scheffee, Jennifer Baker, Gerrie Lee Agnew, Jennifer Sisson, Kerry Hodgson.

Swing - Teresa Vanderwal, Nancy Ford, Suzanne Bennett, Magdalene Bolco, Jennifer Sisson.

First Figure - Judy Trumbull.

Fiesta Tango - Lori Northey, Angela Sisson, Mary Flors MacNab, Nancy Ford, Magdalene Bolco.

Willow Waltz - Mary Flors MacNab.

Fourteenstep - Katherine Leary.

European Waltz - Susan Leary.

The judges for this event were Mrs. Mary Cappler of Port Hope, Mr. James Allen of Oshawa and Mr. Michael Evans of Peterborough.

At the last meeting an election of officers was held, but due to the poor attendance, inability and lack of interest, the list is incomplete. As it now stands, the officers are: President - Jane Rinne; 1st Vice, 2nd Vice and Secretary are vacant; Treasurer - Donna Lloyd; Test Chairman - Sylvia Sisson; Executive - Beryl Scheffee, Muriel Peters, Marlene Bennett, Marie Blair, Joyce Wood. It is hard to believe that with so many young people involved we are unable to get enough interested parents who are willing and able to fill these offices.

At a future meeting the hiring of an instructor for next season will be decided. This is a very serious decision and should concern everyone involved with figure skating.

To all who helped with the donations, coaching, Carnival, Test days and other things too numerous to mention, and to the Arena staff, a very sincere thank you.

Glee Club To Present "Patience"

The setting is England in the late 19th century. An aesthetic poet, Reginald Bunthorne, has captured the hearts of the neighbourhood maidens and caused jealousy in the ranks of their fiancées — the 35th Dragoon Guards. Though constantly followed by an admiring flock of girls, Bunthorne loves only Patience, the village milkmaid, but she boasts that she has never loved. In the complications that follow everyone wonders "Who will be Bunthorne's bride?"

Following last year's success with "The Mikado", the local Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Glee Club is presenting its latest production, "Patience" by Gilbert and Sullivan, on Thursday, April 13 (tonight), Friday, April 14, and Saturday, April 15, in the H.H.S.S. Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Come and see "Patience" and discover for yourself who will be "Bunthorne's bride".

Construction Company Fined

Konvey Construction Company Limited of Markham, Ontario, who are working on a new building on the main street of Haliburton, were fined $250.00 and costs in Magistrate's Court in Minden on Tuesday, April 11, for permitting workmen to work on the project without safety hats. Superintendent Irwin G. Bond was also fined $100.00 and costs. The charges were laid under the Construction Safety Act.

The safety infraction charges were filed by Harry E. Clark, Construction Safety Inspector of the Provisional County of Haliburton.

Named President Of Law Association

Donald Warner, Q.C., was this week named as President of the Lindsay Law Association, an organization composed of solicitors not only from Lindsay but from all communities in Victoria and Haliburton Counties. He succeeds David Logan.

Carried.

and signed. Carried.

(6) That Council hereby withdraw their conditions of January 28, 1972, Reference File T-16677, and are prepared to recommend the plan in its present form. This withdrawal is due to the cost involved in existing roads and lot stakings. The municipality further reserves the right to choose the five per cent when they are able to inspect the property. HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER

Mrs. Evelyn Brooks of Haliburton informed us that spring must just be around her corner. Last Wednesday, April 5, she was returning to her home when she noticed a robin in front of her driveway and, believe it or not, it was snowing hard at the time.

We have informed by Mr. Harvey Hall, sales representative for Standard Auto Glass Limited, that the dates on the calendar in 1972 for the entire year falls on the very same dates on the calendar for 1916. That company has put out a calendar with the year 1916 on top to prove that very point — each month of the calendar shows a different automobile manufactured in 1916.

Mr. Don Lloyd, Treasurer of the Haliburton Rotary Club's Easter Seal Fund, told the Echo today that the local Easter Seal Campaign is still $500.00 short of the objective. Time is running out, so if you have not already sent in your donation please do so today. Your money is urgently needed.

We have just been notified that the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association will be holding a meeting at the Haliburton Arena on Monday, April 24, at 8:30 p.m.

A Special Service

On the evening of April 8 it was a privilege for Violet and I to participate in the service at the Maple Lake United Church. The service was in charge of the resident Pastor, Norman Wesley Oake, but the young people making up the choir took a very prominent part in the service and did a very excellent work.

The following young people and one couple were added to the membership of this communion, and we welcome into full communion of the United Church of Canada and the Maple Lake congregation on profession of faith: Susan Barry, Lois Barry, Margaret Barry, Linda Barjarow, Colin Barlarow, Cathy Barlarow, Gordon Houghton and Patricia Houghton, and Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Burden on transfer from Willowgrave United Church at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario. There is no doubt that these young folk will add greatly to the strength of this congregation, and we would like to extend our very best wishes to these young people.

I should like to give a word of advice and encouragement to this group. Some 65 years ago it so happened that I was in the City of Toronto over a weekend. Billy Sunday, a great evangelist of that day, was in the city giving special services and, with my friends, I was present at his last service. In giving a final charge to the young converts, he held the Bible aloft and exclaimed "And above all, keep your appetites keen for the word of God — and search out for yourselves a church home."

I can give one better advice: "May the Blessing of Almighty God rest and remain with you now and forever more — peace go with you."

Violet and Clayton P. Rogers, Moorefield Acres, Carnarvon.

Can You Name
This Spot?The rat.
Our
useful friend.

It takes millions to finance the fight against cancer. New laboratories have to be built and equipped. Full-time scientists, laboratory technicians, assistants have to be paid.

Rats are some of our most useful friends and cost $2 to $9 each. Maintenance for the 25,000 mice that a lab may have at any one time runs to $375 a day.

An electron microscope costs from $45,000 to $68,000. Cell counters are $6,500. An ultracentrifuge is $18,000.

The costs go on and on. But they're paying off. Nowadays thousands and thousands of cancer patients are cured.

To Put Your Town On The Map

With fairs, festivals and even farewells, small communities are finding ways to make themselves famous. And prosperous, if not rich. Almost any place can do it.

By CAROLYN KATARIYA

Adapted from an article by Frances L. Koltun

In Ontario's scenic Madawaska Valley lies the village of Bancroft (pop. 2300). It is similar to dozens of other small communities in this rugged region except for one thing — it is the home of the Rockhound Gemboree, an event well-known to rock collectors in Canada and abroad. Its experience provides a working model of how to put almost any town in Canada on the map.

Bancroft was a thriving center for uranium mining until the early 1960s, when a world oversupply of uranium forced mines to close down and threatened to plunge the local economy into stagnation. When the Chamber of Commerce and the Bancroft Mineral Society initiated the Rockhound Gemboree in 1961, few foresaw how much it would do to help spur the region's economic recovery. Since then, ever-growing streams of visitors have come to the Society's clubhouse to trade their rock specimens, and Bancroft has earned a reputation as "the Rockhounds' Paradise," attracting enthusiasts from as far away as Poland, India and New Zealand.

The five-day Gemboree now draws an average of 20,000 tourists every summer. There has been a boom in real estate, with property values now several times their 1961 levels. Revenue from tourism is well over $1 million annually, and it has been estimated that without these tourist dollars only 10 to 15 percent of the businesses in Bancroft could survive. By capitalizing on a natural asset the people of Bancroft have brought new life to the community.

For much of its history, Williams Lake, B.C., was a little-known ranching community — and cattle still outnumber people nine to one. While rodeos were always a popular form of entertainment for neighboring cowhands, it wasn't until the introduction of the Midsummer Stampede in 1934 that the whole town became involved.

Since its beginning, the Midsummer Stampede has come under the guiding hand of a citizens' group, the Williams Lake Stampede Association. Over the years the Association has succeeded in maintaining the Stampede's broad appeal — even featuring such unconventional events as a businessman's race. In the late '50s a private organization offered to buy out the Stampede, but the Association refused to sell, believing it would dampen the community involvement so essential to the rodeo's continued success. This decision proved to be a wise one. Last year, when the growing Stampede required a new $160,000 grandstand, the citizenry rallied: one housewife sold debentures door to door to raise the money, while civic-minded clubs such as the Lions, Kinsmen and Kiwanis sponsored various money-making ventures, donating their profits to the cause.

Community interest has paid off handsomely for Williams Lake. Today it boasts the third-largest wild-west show in the country, and thousands of visitors arrive annually to thrill to bronco riding, roping and wild-cow milking. But, more important, the town's bank clearings rise $300,000 in Stampede week and Bob Erickson, manager of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, estimates that the Stampede annually injects $750,000 into the economy. The resulting growth in service and hospitality industries has provided new economic stability for this central B.C. town.

About 40 miles northeast of Winnipeg, Man., is Beausejour (pop. 2000), which, like many towns, appears to have nothing unique enough to attract tourists; yet some 25,000 visitors now throng the community every February to attend its Farewell to Winter carnival.

Started eight years ago by the local Lions International Club in defiance of a climate described locally as "ten months of winter and two months of tough sledding," the Farewell soon outgrew the scope of the 28-member Lions Club and a nonprofit corporation of citizens was set up to help manage it. This corporation has developed the Farewell into one of Canada's outstanding winter festivals. Its specialty, the power-toboggan race, has progressed from a handful of participants in the first race to more than 250 entrants in 1971, many racing on behalf of major snowmobile manufacturers.

The Farewell now brings about $200,000 a year into Beausejour, and the power-toboggan race, featured on such network TV shows as "Wild World of Sports" and "Kaleidosport," has brought the town national recognition and a substantial winter tourist trade. As George Hastings, vice president of the championship committee, explains: "The Beausejour story is a good indicator of what can happen in any community if there's a good idea, if it's pursued with dedication, and if the organizers develop local co-operation."

Throughout Canada people are pouring energy and heart into similar community events. Sometimes the idea comes from an individual, perhaps a local historian; sometimes from the chamber of commerce or board of trade. Almost always it starts small, then takes hold and develops. Seldom does it have much seed money. But those that prevail pay off. Here's why.

Visitors bring money. According to the federal Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce, recent surveys indicate that the minimum average spending per tourist per day is $10.40. This means that a community which can attract an average of 26 tourists a day is gaining benefits equal to those provided by attracting a new manufacturing industry with a $100,000-a-year payroll. This money is recycled within the community and, through the pass-on or multiplier effect, eventually generates economic activity worth another $250,000 to $300,000.

Visitors pay taxes without being major tax consumers. The taxes visitors from other provinces or from across the border leave behind — on gasoline, hotel rooms, retail sales, fishing licenses — can be used for schools, libraries, roads, a whole range of public works.

Visitors attract new industries. A better place for visitors is a better place to live — and more attractive to new industries, too. A case in point is Stratford, Ont., which was hard hit in 1954 when layoffs at the local railway repair depots left 1000 people out of work. The Stratford Shakespearean Festival, started the previous year, more than compensated for the loss; since then it has attracted to the city 45 new industries employing more than 4000 people.

Furthermore, a notable event draws publicity, sometimes, national news coverage. The World's International Tuna Cup Match with headquarters in Yarmouth, N.S., is not a spectator event, but the follow-up publicity works like a magnet in drawing sportsmen and other tourists into southwestern Nova Scotia. Says Hubert Lynch, chairman of the Yarmouth County Tourist Association: "The Tuna Cup Match, said to be the 'World Series of tuna fishing,' is attended by representatives of the media from around the world. The news value of this event is worth millions of dollars in free advertising for Yarmouth and surrounding areas."

What event can you dream up for your hometown? Here are some successful ideas:

● If yours is an area distinguished for a single crop, plant or foodstuff, build a festival around it. There is, for example, a peach festival in Penticton, B.C.; a gladiolus festival in Lethbridge, Alta.; a grape and wine festival in St. Catharines, Ont.; a lobster carnival in Summerside, P.E.I.; and a trout festival in Flin Flon, Man.

● If yours is a town of historic homes or beautiful gardens — even a handful will do — plan a tour of them. House and garden tours are successful in many communities.

● If your area has a favorite son, build a pageant around his life and boyhood home. Or reenact some of your town's historic highlights. In the Yukon, Dawson City each year celebrates the anniversary of the discovery of gold there with its Discovery Day, while Chicoutimi, Que., holds an annual Carnaval-Souvenir, re-creating French Canada of 100 years ago.

● If music and art are vigorous in your town, organize a festival around local musicians, painters, sculptors, singers, dancers, writers. Or have a country-music jamboree, or an all-night sing. Arts festivals around the country today include everything from theater-in-the-round to music on the square!

● If your community has strong ethnic ties, try a "national" festival. Antigonish, N.S., creates an atmosphere of Old Scotland with its popular Highland Games, while Dauphin, Man., hosts Canada's National Ukrainian Festival.

● If your town has a particular sports tradition, build a sporting event around it. In summer, Yellowknife, N.W.T., makes use of its 24 hours of daylight to hold a "Midnight Golf Tournament," and Nelson, B.C., sponsors a Midsummer Curling Bonspiel. Is there a river near you? Take a tip from Chilliwack, B.C., and its Vedder River Steelhead Derby or the International Canoe Race at Shawinigan, Que. If there's a hill in your area, turn Canadian winters to your advantage by developing a ski resort. No hill? Follow Saskatoon's example and build your own — last year that city hosted Canada's Winter Games on its own man-made mountain!

Don't be afraid to let your imagination soar. For what may be commonplace to you can be enormously appealing to a visitor. And remember: there is a growing flood of mobile and curious Canadians who like to travel.

TIPS ON GETTING STARTED

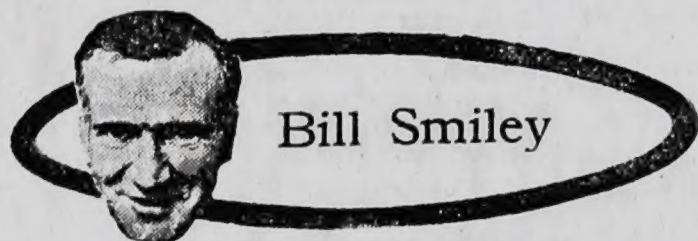

● Form a Tourist Committee, a small one, and then divide into four subcommittees charged with (1) Inventory, (2) Program, (3) Promotion, (4) Hospitality. The most important ingredients: an enthusiastic leader and a true cross section of community interests, including business, education, women's clubs and cultural groups. (Warning: To build a committee around citizens interested only in direct profit is a sure blueprint for failure.)

● Get as many people involved as possible. The secret of success is to make sure that the whole community has as much fun as the visitor.

● Get knowledgeable help. The director of your provincial tourism department can advise you and help promote your event. Also, contact your regional tourist association and the local chamber of commerce or board of trade. The Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Montreal can put you in touch with communities which have been successful in developing projects similar to yours. Also, it might be worthwhile to join the Travel Industry Association of Canada which is located in Ottawa. If there are large industries in your town, get the advice of their advertising and public-relations departments or contact F. A. LaFleche, the Events and Attractions Consultant of the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce in Ottawa.

The Manitoba Department of Industry and Commerce has sponsored a publication entitled Operation Bootstrap, which tells how 20 Manitoba communities found prosperity, many by the development of a tourist industry. This booklet is available free of charge from Regional Development Branch of the Manitoba Department of Industry and Commerce, Winnipeg 1, Man.

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce puts out a booklet called Tourist Development, which may be obtained by sending 45 cents to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, 1080 Beaver Hall Hill, Montreal 128, Que.

MANY PLACES HE'D RATHER BE

As I write, the so-called first day of spring has long gone, but the only indication that winter is early over in these parts is that the curling season is drawing to a close.

Outside the window the snowbanks look like the iceberg that sank the Titanic. Inside, the furnace thumps away like a bull moose that has just outrun a pack of wolves. And every four days, it seems, the oil delivery man wades through the drifts, inserts that solid gold nozzle in the side of the house, and whistling cheerfully, pumps another $30 worth of oil into the great guzzler.

It is a time to try men's souls. It is a time of year when I curse my Irish forebears for not emigrating to New Zealand or South Africa or Jamaica.

However, it happens every year, and there's always some little ray of spiritual or emotional sunlight to penetrate the late-winter blues.

My little ray of sunshine (at four o'clock in the afternoon) is sleeping the sleep of the pure at heart. She's been in the sack since 7:30 this morning, after sitting up all night talking to her crazy mother, who suffers from insomnia.

It's not that Kim disturbs the quiet, gentle routine of our daily life. She doesn't disturb it at all. She destroys it.

As mentioned, she's a night-owl. Does her best work, writing essays and stuff, after midnight. And just like the owl, she can sleep all day.

Same with eating. She's never hungry when anyone else is. If dinner is carefully planned for six-thirty, she is suddenly famished at five-thirty and smashes herself up a big mess of bacon and eggs or spaghetti and sardines, leaving her mother and I looking ruefully at the roast. Or else she is not hungry at dinner-hour and will eat nothing but some celery, and then about eight-thirty is fainting and slaps up a vast concoction of fried bananas and mushrooms.

These are minor things, of course, and she's a delight to have around the house. When she's here, at least I know why my socks are disappearing and I haven't a clean shirt to wear.

The problem, you see, is that we ask her home for a weekend. She throws a clean blouse in a shoulder bag and heads home. But she hates the city so much that her weekends turn into a six-day sojourn, and she has to wear somebody's clothes, and she and her mother can't abide each other's taste in garments, so she wears mine, which are so drab and nondescript that nobody could fight over them. As I said, these are trifles. But she's always in some kind of a hassle, and these are the things that produce the hours-long, all-night sessions with her old lady, while I lie blissfully, dreaming of the grand old days when she was a cuddly infant. She's still pretty cuddly, by the way, but not for the old man.

And that's the sort of thing she and her Ma can talk about for six hours at a stretch, without either one drawing a full breath.

They can talk about Don and The Wedding. This is not the title of a Russian novel about the Don River. Don is the other man in her life, and The Wedding is causing more confusion around here than anything since the day we discovered our tomat was pregnant.

The great event is scheduled for May. Typically, Kim announced that they had chosen May 7th as the day. And typically, her mother, who never misses anything important like this, though I doubt if she knows the name of the prime minister, checked the calendar and discovered that May 7th is a Sunday. Not many people get married on Sunday, though I don't know why not. There isn't much else to do.

I've had a lot of free advice about the wedding. Most people chuckle fiendishly as they tell me what it's going to cost. "Well, she's your only daughter, so you'll have to go the whole hog, eh?" Or, "Well, it only happens once and it'll cost you a bundle, but think of the loot she'll get." Consoling stuff like this.

In the first place, I wouldn't care if I had ten daughters. Well, maybe I would. But in the second place, I don't want her to get a lot of loot. We'd wind up storing it in our house for ten years until she and her broke intended are making enough to afford more than an unfurnished room.

Her mother promptly announced that she was not up to a big wedding with all the frills, the smartest decision she has made since she agreed to marry me. Her mother, that is.

Next, I laid it on the line. Four choices. A small wedding, immediate family only, and a fair-sized cheque. A slightly bigger deal, with a smallish reception, to include close friends, and a small cheque. A big splash, with a lot of people, and no cheque. Or a massive affair, with pomp and circumstance, in a city hotel ballroom, with her uncle and godfather, a well-to-do lawyer, paying the shot, if she could talk him into it.

She chose No. 1. But we'll see. We're far from out of the woods yet.

Ontario Lands And Forests Report

1971 Deer Hunt Report

A total of 489 organized deer hunt camps replied to the Department's mail survey. From returns received it appears that 4,373 hunters shot 1,031 deer for a success rate of 23.3% across the district. Success was .9% less than the 1970 hunt figure of 24.2%.

Looking at specific areas in the District it was found that the Hindon Township area had an increase in hunter success of from 35% in 1970 to 38.4% in 1971. In the Haliburton area success increased to 38.4% from 35% in 1970. Success in the Apsley area dropped to 16.7% from 20% in 1970.

Fawns made up 28.6% of the total deer killed in the District. This was a decrease of 0.9% from the 1970 figure.

deer are tightly confined to their winter range for more than 12 weeks, mortality usually occurs and the does that do make it through the winter are in such poor condition that many of their fawns die shortly after birth.

Last fall was mild and long, snows came late and built up only slowly through January. Snow depths averaged only 13 to 17 inches in January in our main deer range. As a result, deer were moving about quite freely until early February in most areas. Providing we have a normal spring breakup, late March or early April, deer should come out of the winter in good shape. They will then be able to attain top condition by the late May fawning season by feeding on nutritious new green growth.

Winter Favourable For Deer

(reprinted from the Minister's Newsletter Vol. 25 (1972) No. 5)

Winter weather, a critical factor in the well-being of Ontario's white-tails, has been more favourable this winter than for the past three years. At this point the situation looks good and barring a catastrophe, wild-life officers expect good survival this winter and a healthy herd as spring progresses.

Deer, being at the northern limit of their range in Ontario, are critically affected by severe winter weather. Deep snow restricts their movement, and cold temperatures drain their bodies of valuable energy. The total length of time that deep snow persists is probably more important than its maximum depth. If

Officers Use 'Copter To

Track Down "Killer" Dogs

Because of a recent rash of incidents of dogs worrying and killing deer, Conservation Officers in the central portion of the district engaged the services of a helicopter to try to control the situation. A total of about 11 hours of flying time was logged between March 15th and March 19th. The crew acted upon 14 complaints by the public of dogs chasing deer. Three charges were laid under Section 77 (1) of The Game and Fish Act which prohibits dogowners from allowing their pets to run at large during a closed season in a deer-inhabited area. Six warnings were issued under the same section.

The area covered included most of those townships bordering the Kawartha Lakes in Victoria and Peterborough Counties.

So far this year 26 deer have been reported killed by dogs. Although less than this period last year, this figure is not one to be proud of.

Minutes Of Monmouth Twp. Council Meetings

The Minutes of the Regular Meeting of Monmouth Township Council held in the Council Chambers, Wilberforce, on March 6, 1972, with the Reeve and all Councillors present.

The meeting opened with the reading and adoption of February minutes.

The following Accounts were passed for payment: Welfare - $673.92, General - $911.58, Roads - $2,509.78.

It was voted to contact the Regional Health Division in Kingston to ascertain the holdup of approval on the Oram subdivision. A meeting was later held with these officials and the problems have now been solved.

The following severances were approved and referred to the Land Division Committee: Parts Lot 32, Concession 16, for Oram, Green and Barber.

A letter was sent to Stanhope Township Council expressing the support of this township to the Stanhope Airport.

It is hoped to do some improvement construction this year on the Burleigh Road, Lot 35, Concession 17, and this matter was discussed at length.

The meeting was then adjourned.

The Minutes of the Regular Meeting of Monmouth Township Council held on April 3, 1972, with all members being present.

The following Accounts were passed for payment: General - $2,179.47, Welfare - $733.99, Roads - $2,240.95.

A portion of Earles Road, Part Lot 33, Concession 14, was deeded to the Township and accepted from Wilbur Sanderson.

A tender for the Tory Hill School was voted on and passed by the Council and submitted. This building is thought to be suitable as a community hall for the Tory Hill district.

The meeting then adjourned until May 1.

Teachers Wallop Wilberforce Senior Girls In Ringette

In the week preceding the winter break it was the boy's hockey team that fell to defeat to the staff team. Last week it was the girl's turn to swallow the bitter pill of defeat. The staff team emerged from this brutal and bloody battle on the long end of a 12-9 score. The girls took their defeat rather stoically as they must have already realized that they had sealed their doom by simply agreeing to the contest.

For the formidable and undefeated staff team the scoring was evenly divided with Mr. Clarke, Mr. Hoare and Mr. Hughes netting four apiece. For the girls it was Kathy Martin with three, Kim Martin with three, Linda Townsend with two and Valerie Farr with one; with the staff in one of their rare benevolent moods in assisting on eight of the nine goals.

Perhaps the score would have been much closer but for the threats of the girls who were reported to have ambulances and O.P.P. officers on the alert to carry away what was left of the staff. Instead of being intimidated, this underhanded tactic served only to inspire the old-timers to a convincing victory in front of a hostile audience. When the staff wound up for their spine-tingling solo rushes there was so much dead female wood lying on the ice that the scene resembled a bowling alley.

Thanks to Loraine Packard and Jayne Godfrey the staff also emerged the winners in the bruised shin department as these two ruffians laid on the lumber with every opportunity.

UNCLE DUDLEY'S COLUMN

THE ENCOURAGING WORD -
A TRIBUTE TO WM. RANSON

Now in my senior years my memory, which is very active, often turns to the days of my boyhood on the Anson farm. Call it "second childhood" or whatever you wish. I cherish these memories.

I mentioned in a former article that when 14 year old I was left a stint of a four-acre field to plow. After that, until we moved from the farm, I did the fall plowing — a single-furrow plow (and a poor one) and about thirty acres to do at about one-and-a-quarter acres a day.

One day as I was working in the home field and running the furrows towards the road, I noted a man walking down the road. I recognized him as William Ranson, a neighbour living about a mile west of us on the Scotch Line. As he came to the place about opposite of the "land" I was working, he came over to the fence and, with his arms on the top, he surveyed the job. I spoke to him and he answered, "You are doing a fine job there, Clayton!" I thanked him, but followed up with the remark "The crown of the land seems to me too high, Mr. Ranson, but I can't seem to keep it down unless I cut much wider and that produces a flat furrow which I do not like." His reply went something like this: "You are right, Clayton. In good plowing the furrows should be well set up on an angle, each furrow hugging closely the one before. You then have a field that, with little working, will have a fine seed bed."

He went on his way and I was surely encouraged if my work passed examination by William Ranson, the best plowman in the township — I was satisfied.

The Ranson family were fine folk. Mrs. Ranson was a close friend of my mother, and the older boy Henry worked for my father for a four-month trick for two seasons (Dad always said he was the best man he had ever hired). Robert, Margaret and Tom were schoolmates of mine, and now in the sunset of life my mind often reverts to those school days at Anson No. 2.

I believe some of the later generation still live in the Town of Lindsay, where the family moved to early in the century.

See you next week. Peace be with you!

1971 FINANCIAL STATEMENT

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Townships of Dysart et al

We have examined the 1971 financial statements of the Corporation of the Townships of Dysart et al. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Townships of Dysart et al as at December 31, 1971, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Wedding

LOAN - HIRSTWOOD

A pretty spring wedding was solemnized at St. George's Anglican Church-on-the-Hill, Islington, on the evening of Friday, March 17, 1972, when Ruth Gladys Hirstwood, the daughter of Mr. Arthur J. Hirstwood of Minden, was united in marriage with Mr. Brydon Jeremy Loan. The Reverend Dr. Roland Hill conducted the traditional candlelight service.

The bride looked lovely, attired in a floor-length white gown of Swedish linen of classic styling with sleeves and hem banded by lace and pearls and a veil set with daisies. She carried a bouquet of daisies, ivy and shamrock.

Her maid-of-honour was Miss Donna Jean Barger of Toronto, who was gowned in a dress of yellow chiffon trimmed with orange and green lace and ribbons, with attached red roses. She carried yellow daisies and red roses.

Attending the groom were his brother-in-law, Mr. James Sheldon, and ushers Mr. Peter Cox and Mr. John Hazelwood. The groom is the son of Mr. Ingram Loan and Mrs. Loan of Toronto.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Valhalla Inn where the festive St. Patrick's Day motif was carried out. Mrs. Marion Loan, mother of the groom, received the guests — she was becomingly gowned in mauve and blue with matching accessories and violets.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip to La Hayette, Indiana, the bride wore a sailor dress of navy blue and white checks with a navy coat and corsage of red carnations.

The happy couple will be residing at Lindsay and operating Air Lindsay.

THE CANCER CONUNDRUM

Cancer is found in all countries and in all peoples, but there are puzzling differences in the incidence. Japan, for example, has more stomach cancer and less breast cancer than Canada. French-speaking men of Quebec Province have twice as much cancer of the colon but only a third as much skin cancer as English-speaking Canadians. Using such facts to discover the causes of cancer and ways to defeat them is one role of research, made possible by your contribution to the Canadian Cancer Society.

Surprise Party Given Couple

A Surprise Party was held at the home of George and Gerry Poole at Haliburton Lake on Wednesday, March 29, in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moore who recently sold their business Bayview Birches Restaurant on Haliburton Lake to take up residence in Haliburton Village.

Neighbours and friends of Don and Helena showered them with gifts for their new home. Their cheerful service and co-operation will be missed by both permanent and summer residents there, and we all wish them well in their future endeavours.

We are happy to know that the restaurant will continue to provide home-style meals and snacks under the most capable management of Mr. and Mrs. David Dodd. The Dodds are no strangers to the area, as they have been cottagers on Haliburton Lake for many years.

Good luck to both the Moores and the Dodds!

IN MEMORIAM

BARNHART - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Melvin, who passed away on April 17, 1968.

It is sad to walk the road alone, Instead of side by side, But to all there comes a moment When the ways of life divide; You gave me years of happiness, Then came sorrow and tears, But you left me beautiful memories
I will treasure through the years.
—Sadly missed by his Wife and Family.

BARNHART - In loving memory of a father and grandfather, Melvin Barnhart, who passed away on April 17, 1968. We often sit and think of him When we are alone, For memory is the only friend That grief can call its own; Like ivy on the withered oak, When other things decay, Our love for him will still be green And never fade away.
—Sadly missed and always remembered by Robert, Sharon and Children.

CHURCH NEWS

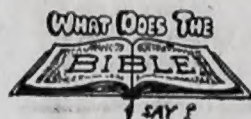

GOD'S KINGDOM COMES TO POWER

According to the scriptures, the start of the rule by God's kingdom was to trigger a period of unprecedented trouble for earth's inhabitants. Realizing this we can better understand the meaning of what Jesus told his followers about his second presence. They had asked him, "Tell us, when will these things be, and what will be the sign of your presence and of the conclusion of the system of things?" — Matt. 24:3. Jesus then described for their benefit and ours, what would take place on earth when he would begin to rule in heaven. In this way, although the events in heaven would be invisible to human eyes, there would be visible proof that Christ was at last on the throne, taking action as king. It would be proof that the wicked system of things that has oppressed mankind for centuries had entered its "last days" — II Tim. 3:1. Although it was foretold that there would be ridiculers that would try to belittle the facts, yet the evidence would be clear — II Peter 3:3,4. Exactly what did Jesus point to as marking his second presence and the conclusion of the system of things? He said: "Nation will rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be food shortages and earthquakes in one place after another." — Matt. 24:7. As we consider the evidence together, it is important to realize that Jesus did not say that any one event, such as threat of war or a terrible earthquake, would be proof that the end was at hand. Rather, he said: "Note the fig tree and all the other trees: when they are already in bud, by observing it you know for yourselves that now the summer is near. In this way, you also, when you see these things occurring, know that the kingdom of God is near." — Luke 21:29-31. If we see one tree put out its leaves because the weather is warm for a few days, we do not reason that summer has come do we? But when we see all the trees budding and the days growing longer we know that summer has to be near. Likewise, when all the things that Jesus described take place, we can know for sure that Christ is on his heavenly throne and that his kingdom has indeed begun active rule. When that happens liberation is near. So Jehovah, through his son Jesus, tells us to look for a new kind of warfare to mark his second presence — total war. That war that began in 1914 fits his description. Not only did armies fight on the battlefields; civilian populations too were organized to give full support to the war. As Jesus foretold, entire nations and kingdoms were fighting against one another. For the first time in history, the whole world was at war. Hence it is called World War I. This was one of the signs to look for.

THE GOSPEL OF CHRIST - GOD'S POWER TO SAVE

Jesus commanded his apostles to "go . . . into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." Paul exhorted Timothy: "The things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also." (II Tim. 2:2). "Preach the word." "Let him that heareth say come." An awful responsibility rests upon the preacher for Paul also said, "Though we or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you let him be accursed." (Gal. 1:8).

The gospel is not ours; it comes from the Supreme Being to his dependent creatures. The preacher is not responsible for the nature of this gospel, nor for the effect it has on those to whom it is sent; he is responsible alone for its faithful deliverance. The preacher has no occasion to apologize to people for the gospel of Christ he presents to his hearers. He has no right to change it to suit the various ones to whom he addresses himself. "I am against the prophets, saith the Lord, that steal my words everyone from his neighbour."

Let us preach that which saves. Paul never thought of preaching any less than a full gospel. "So as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you also that are in Rome. For I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. For in it righteousness of God is revealed from faith to faith, even as it has been written, 'The just shall live by faith.' (Rom. 1:15-17).

In creating man God used his creative power; in saving man he uses his saving power and his saving power is the gospel. Each power has its own sphere of operation, and its own end to serve. If we will not let God save us by the power of the gospel we are doomed and we cannot blame God "for he is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." (II Pet. 3:9).

TOWNSHIP OF STANHOPE 1971 Financial Statement

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Township of Stanhope.

We have examined the 1971 financial statements of the Corporation of the Township of Stanhope. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Township of Stanhope as at December 31, 1971 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Mr. Bill Huskinson and Mr. Carl Saville, the Canadian Cancer Society's Campaign Co-chairmen for the Victoria-Haliburton Unit, estimate that over 120,000 Canadians will be out canvassing for the Cancer Society this month in a massive people attack against cancer.

During April, the Canadian Cancer Society appeals for funds from the general public, principally for cancer research.

"Right here in our area," they said, "our team will consist of about 550 volunteers. These people are giving of their free time to battle against cancer. And although they know that many types of cancer can be beaten, they also realize that there is still much work to be done."

They went on to outline the importance of the fund-raising campaign in relation to the work of the Cancer Society. (The national objective for 1972 is $7,296,225 and the share of this for our unit is $14,000.)

"The money raised this month will be used in research, public education and service to patients programs across Canada. We are trying to make the Seven Safeguard against cancer well known to each and every Canadian, and to point out the folly of ignoring any of the precautions that can lead to early detection of cancer."

They went on to say that our researchers are striving day and night to find the key to unlock the mystery of cancer.

"On an individual basis, the needs and comforts of the cancer patient have top priority with the Society. Our volunteers are constantly active in our Service to Patients program, not only by ministering to patients' physical and financial needs — but by bringing the gift of cheer and hope."

Mr. Huskinson and Mr. Saville remarked that the work of the Canadian Cancer Society would not be possible without the generous support of the Canadian public.

"When our volunteer canvasser calls, your donation will be helping science to win out against cancer."

For further information, contact your local representative or the Unit office at 3 Cambridge Street South, Lindsay.

New Programs In Dental Health

An expanded Dental Public Health Program is underway in the schools of our four counties.

Added to the basic program initiated during the last school year are Crest Brush-In's in Grade 3, Fluoride Brush-In's in Grade 4, and Floss-In's for Grades 7 and 8.

In the Fluoride Brush-In Program, students have the opportunity to reduce tooth decay from 20 to 40% in the next year. In this supervised classroom program, students brush with a special fluoride paste which gives the tooth surface a hardening effect. On the basis that every Grade 4 student will develop at least one new cavity in the next year, this one program alone is saving the parents in our counties an estimated $7,500.00 in dental bills.

In Grades 7 and 8, students are involved in the Floss-In Program, which includes a dental health lesson, an instructional film, and also the materials required to practise "Plaque Control". Dental plaque is that thin, white film on the tooth surface in which mouth bacteria thrive and cause damage. The toothbrush will clean the top and sides of the teeth but will not remove plaque from the surfaces between the teeth — where a good deal of tooth decay and gum disease occurs. Dental Floss (which is available in every drug store), if used once daily, will effectively clean this area between the teeth and help prevent tooth decay and gum disease.

The old adage is still appropriate: "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure".

Letter To Editor

16 Cedar Road,
Cardiff, Ontario.
April 11, 1972.

Letter To The Editor.

Dear Mr. Feir:

"The Chase Is On" is the subject on which I have in mind at this time.

Once again the dogs are depleting our deer populations by chasing them and actually killing them also, as has happened on numerous instances this year, as well as years past. Five known cases of this needless killing in this area has resulted, and probably many more that the public and the Department of Lands and Forests have never heard about.

Ten charges of unlawfully letting dogs run at large have been laid under The Game and Fish Act and several others are pending. There is no doubt that all this trouble is needless if all dog owners would keep their pets and hounds tied or restrained.

Our deer populations are at an almost extinct level now, and if we don't do everything possible to protect them then they also may be on the "extinct list", at least in this area.

People should please keep all dogs, regardless of breed, tied up — especially at this critical time of the season when deer are vulnerable to attack.

James Dingman.

Paring Of County Council Seen Beneficial By MPP

LINDSAY (ENS) — There's a private bill before the Ontario Legislature which, if passed, will reduce the number of people sitting on the Victoria County Council.

This Riding's M.P.P., R. Glen Hodgson, says there is a surprising thing about the bill. He says that even though passage of it will mean a loss of their job as a County Councillor to several incumbent members, it was given unanimous approval by Council.

The bill provides for the elimination of some Deputy Reeves from County Council membership. In Lindsay's case the town's voting power will be reduced by one and the town's share of county financial responsibilities will be proportionately reduced.

Mr. Hodgson sees the bill as a benefit to the function of the Council. By reducing the number of members, it should have the effect of making for greater efficiency by reason of its less cumbersome composition, he said. (Peterborough Examiner)
